

Rev. Sandy Johnson

Is the wife of the late Rev. Bruce C. Johnson, former pastor of the Mt. Hebron Baptist Church, where she still serves on the ministerial staff. As former first lady, she founded the women's ministry and helped to re-organize the music ministry, and still participates in both.

While Sandy has "ministered" most of her life in one way or another, she accepted the call to ministry, preached her initial sermon and was licensed in September of 1999, and ordained in July 2007. She has a diploma in business, a bachelor's degree in Biblical Studies, is currently working on her master's and certification as a life coach.

Sandy is an exhorter, encourager, teacher, preacher, psalmist, counselor and uncompromising witness for the Lord Jesus Christ. Because of her love for God, His people, and ministry, Sandy travels all over doing retreats and conferences; speaking, preaching, teaching or ministering in song, in various professional, educational, civic, artistic and spiritual arenas.

She has been employed with The Johns Hopkins Hospital/Health System for 24 years, is currently Training and Education Coordinator for the Department of General Services. She conducts and facilitates various classes, courses and workshops in the area of personal and professional growth and development, leadership, teamwork and "Service Excellence".

She is the founder of Fresh Water Ministries "where everyone can come and drink from the fountain that never runs dry". "Where we are washed in the word, we flow in the spirit and we thirst after righteousness".

Sandy sits on several boards, including the Clinical Pastoral Education Advisory Council at Johns Hopkins. Does promotions for radio and television, and is often asked to participate in dialogues addressing various spiritual and social issues. She's been the recipient of several awards, including "Women Who Make a Difference". Sandy describes herself as a life coach, a promoter of people and truly believes as long as there's life, there's hope because "tough time's never last, tough people do."

She's a loving daughter, a proud mother, and a bragging grandma. But her greatest joy, deepest pride and strongest confidence are in her relationship with her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Convinced in her mind and settled in her spirit that there is "none like Him."

Her life scriptures are:

Jeremiah 29:11 "For I know the plans I have for you saith the Lord, plans to bless you and not to harm you, to give you hope and a future".

Proverbs 31:30 "Charm is deceitful and beauty is vain, but a woman that fears the Lord shall be praised".

Sandy Johnson, from The Johns Hopkins Medical Institution where she is Training and Education Coordinator for the Department of General Services. She is responsible for orienting, training and developing employees in The Department of General Services. She conducts and facilitates various workshops and courses in the area of personal and professional growth and development, leadership, teamwork and "Service Excellence."

She's one of the organizers of "Unified Voices" of The Johns Hopkins Medical Institution. Unified Voices is a multi-cultural, occupationally diverse, community outreach musical project, established 15 years ago, whose goal is to help bridge the gap between the various Hopkins entities and the Baltimore community, by bringing "Hope, Health & Healing through Harmony"

Because of her love for people and her ability to encourage, motivate and inspire, Sandy travels all over doing retreats and conferences; speaking, teaching or singing in various professional, educational, civic, artistic and spiritual arenas.

Sandy sits on several boards, does promotions for radio and television, and is often asked to participate in dialogues addressing various spiritual and social issues. She's been the recipient of several awards, including "Women Who Make a Difference". Sandy describes herself as a life coach, a promoter of people and truly believes as long as there's life, there's hope because "tough time's never last, tough people do."